Pairiek Gaynor, who has been in jail 38 a witness since the shooting, swore that he had known Brown for five years and Emma Woeds a little over a year. The clay before the shooting about 1 P. M., he was around Brown's, and with John Hand was cutting grass in the front year of Brown's holes, at 21 Warren siteet.

He saw two young women come out of Brown's salson. As the women passed the house Emma Woods atoed in the yard, and said:

"Til fix him for that."

About 10 clock that night he saw Emma Woods atoed in the yard, and said in Brown's salson and year over to her house with her. He had previous put Harry to bed there, setting the key in the salson. The prisoner said that thrown had gone away with the two women who called at the salson during the key in the salson. She went into the house, got a revolver, and said she'd the ready for him.

The witness and Emma Woods went lints the house, got a revolver, and said she'd the ready for him.

The witness and Emma Woods went lints the boar of Thompson's salson the way home, he saw the form, across the street, where they had love triphs of earl, Emma poying for sen's.

"These gentlemen assert positively and sage of the unconditional repeal, even if it takes all of this and next year to accomplish it. "The Courier-Journal's correspondent asked the Secretary of the Treasury if there were any indications of wavering among the friends of repeal in th Senate.

"He answered in the negative, and added that he believed the sentiment for repeal was stronger in the Senate o-day than it was at the beginning o the fight. "Under these conditions compromise or rather surrender, upon the part of the Administration is not in sight, all
